TREAT A COLD IN THE FIRST STAGE!

A cold ordinarily grows through 3 stages. The first stage the first 24 hours the cold is in the throat. The second stage the cold is in the chest. The third stage the cold is in the lungs. It is the time to "treat" a cold in the first stage. Groves' Laxative Bromo Quinine does it. Doesn't "monkey" with a cold but treats it decisively and thoroughly at all drug stores.

ROOSEVELT STARTS SAFETY CAMPAIGN

Roper To Call Leading Citizens in Drive To Cut Down Auto Accidents.

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—A drive to reduce the nation's annual accident toll—10,000 killed and 900,000 injured—was launched yesterday by President Roosevelt.

In a letter he authorized Secretary Roper to call a conference of leading citizens to form plans for conducting "a national drive to reduce the number of automobile accidents." The committee secretary also announced the names of a committee which will meet here within two weeks.

The group will be headed by Sen. Morris of New Jersey. Other members will include Senators Capper of Kansas and McKelton of California.

While it was emphasized that highway and other transportation accidents would receive a major share of attention, Roper said other types would be considered.

The president stressed that jurisdiction over highways rests largely with local governments, but said "you can accomplish much by getting these other government agencies to proceed more actively than they have heretofore."

Your Health

BY DR. E. S. COPELAND

Infection in Bones.

At a recent medical meeting there was announced a new method of treating that disease with a big name, "osteomyelitis." The new treatment is said to have met with astonishing success. This is indeed gratifying to all physicians who have met the many difficulties connected with this ailment.

Osteomyelitis is an infection of a bone. Any bone of the body may be involved. It is a disease commonly encountered in growing and active children. In adults usually it can be traced to some accident or injury to the bone. During the World War it was a common complication of gunshot wounds.

Osteomyelitis in children may be the result of a simple scratch or wound that has been neglected. Frequently a child falls and injures himself while at play and fails to tell his parents of the accident. This is unfortunate, because there is always the possibility of infection. If precautions are taken at the proper time the disease may be prevented. Most cases of osteomyelitis are caused by a germ called the "staphylococcus." This particular agent of evil may reside in infected tissue, teeth, abscesses or other structures, and be carried from one part of the body to another. When there is a fall or blow, the germs may localize at the site of the injury.

This is why a severe blow may be the beginning of a series of changes which end in osteomyelitis. Of course, it is not necessary to have a blow in order that osteomyelitis may develop. If the germs are in the system there may be trouble without the history of an injury.

As a rule, the first evidence of the infection appears suddenly with marked chills and high fever. The infected bone is tender and painful. Sometimes the adjacent joint too, is swollen and painful. A child who complains of pain in an arm or leg should be carefully examined by the doctor.

If there is any doubt as to whether the pain is due to osteomyelitis an x-ray picture will accurately determine the truth. A definite diagnosis in the plate will indicate involvement of the injured bone.

Mild cases of osteomyelitis respond to simple treatment. But if the disease becomes chronic it is exceedingly difficult to overcome. The new way of treating osteomyelitis is by the injection of what the modern specialist calls a "bacteriophage," a germ product. This has been shown to check destruction of the bone and completely to heal the wound. The bacteriophage is also reported as being used successfully in cases of carbuncles, boils and abscesses.

Results of treatment to reduce weight a new biopsy is evidenced in a straggled should to increase speed.

"Never Mind The Lady" Star's New Serial Story

Adventure and romance form a new serial story by David Garth, which begins Monday, Nov. 23, in The Star.

Whether the action is in the South American coffee plantations of Propionaire, where the story has shifted as it goes, or New York, Wash., or home, readers will be kept on their toes by the lively account of a young man who is an engineer and a serious job to do meets a woman in the form of a woman to whom everything is a task.

The heroine is Terry Willett.

who has one ambition in life—that is, one ambition to realize before he starts "going places." That ambition is to conquer the Parva river, to build the locks that will make the stream navigable and allow access to the coffee plantations in the interior. The river had beaten his father and Terry was wedded to the South American jungle until he could even the score.

It was in the lazy, sun-baked town of Propionaire, trembling ever with the threat of revolution, that Terry first met Allaire West. Almost immediately, circumstances made them partners in an adventure which separated them but at the same time drew them irresistibly together.

Terry was strongly attracted to this golden-haired daughter of Senator West, a seemingly irresponsible girl who, despite a dash and beauty that drew many men, was interested only in her own independence and her latest passion for flying.

"You always were inclined to be snooty," her father had told her. "You're the proudest person on this green earth." But in Terry Willett she met her match.

To tell more would be to get ahead of the story which the author relates with irresistible vigor and an inventiveness which will be welcomed for its refreshing newness. David Garth is among the newer stars in the literary firmament, but in "Never Mind The Lady" he demonstrates his ability to combine an unusual plot and smart dialog in a thoroughly absorbing way.

Follow this story daily in The Star starting Monday, Nov. 23.

THIS IS THE 1935 CHRISTMAS SEAL

Protect Your Home from Tuberculosis BUY CHRISTMAS SEALS

This is the 1935 Christmas Seal. Harking back to the 1890's, it commemorates the Civil war and the years immediately following.

The little girl on the seal is dressed in a gown typical of that period.

Following the Civil war stamps were sold in some of the cities of the North to raise funds for sick and indigent soldiers, but the girl herself knew nothing about Christmas Seals. They did not appear in this country until 1907.

This is the 29th year of the Christmas Seal sale. The sale will be held between Thanksgiving and Christmas.

Let this little girl of the '90's go with your Christmas letters, cards and packages, to spread good cheer and, incidentally, aid in the campaign against tuberculosis.

"How do I feel — Rotten! why do you ask?"

"Because, you are not yourself!"

It is all so simple, too! That tired, run-down, exhausted feeling quite often is due to lack of a sufficiency of those precious red-blood-cells. Just build up these oxygen-carrying cells and the whole body takes on new life... food is really turned into energy and strength... you can't help but feel and look better. S.S.S. Tonic restores deficient red-blood-cells... it also improves the appetite and digestion. It has been the nation's standby for over 100 years... and unless your case is exceptional it should help you, too. Insist on S.S.S. Tonic in the blood-red cellophane-wrapped package. 2 ATTORNEYS LOSE FEE CASE IN COURT

Supreme Tribunal Rules Contingent Charge Illegal in Compensation Cases.

By The Associated Press
COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 21.—Attorneys may not accept workmen's compensation cases on a contingent fee basis.

The Ohio supreme court dealt the custom a death blow when it declared such contracts are against public policy and therefore null and void. On a contingent fee basis the attorney receives half the amount of the award.

It ordered Allen Blaker and Harold D. McLaughlin, Portsmouth attorneys, to return $700 to Everett Adkins of Portsmouth. The attorneys had represented him in a suit for compensation when the state industrial commission refused an award for an accident.

Blaker and McLaughlin applied to the court for allowance of attorney fees from commission funds but not from Adkins' award. The court allowed them $195.60.

The court refused to consider a tax commission appeal from a Meigs county appellate court decision fixing a $12,000 tax valuation on lands of the P. & G. Oil and Gas Co. for 1935. The commission set the valuation at $34,200.

A Montgomery county appellate court decision was upheld. It remained for new trial on error grounds the suit of John Fieszel against the city railway company for injuries. The common pleas court granted him $2,010.

CHINESE AUTONOMY MOVEMENT STOPS

and expressed the fears that the same independence might be demonstrated again.

The cessation of the autonomy activities followed a visit by Ambassador Akira Arisaka of Japan to Gen. Chiang Kai-Shek, the Chinese leader in Nanking Wednesday.

It was reported that Ambassador Arisaka assured Gen. Chiang that the Tokyo government was not contemplating military action in North China and was not suggesting that North China secede from the national government.

In return, Gen. Chiang was said to have assured the ambassador that the national government intended to institute a new administration in North China.

Still, there were indications that some measures of autonomy would be achieved at some future time in North China under arrangements agreed upon between Nanking and Tokyo.

The British foreign office said it had exchanged views with the United States regarding the situation in North China and that it was "more hopeful."

Authoritative quarters in London appeared satisfied by the report from Tokyo that Japan was not bringing military pressure to bear in North China.

Chinese laborers in Singapore demonstrated before the Japanese hospital there, breaking windows, but police cleared them away.

Another demonstration in Tientsin by advocates of North China autonomy, was broken up by police.

Halt Attributed To British Pressure

(Copyright, 1936, Associated Press)

LONDON, Nov. 21.—The halt in plans for the establishment of an autonomous North China, was said by an authoritative source today to have been due to pressure brought by Great Britain.

It was indicated that the British used their influence to stiffen the stand of Gen. Chiang Kai-Shek, Chinese national leader, in opposition to North China's split from the Nanking government.

At the same time, it was said, the British played a strong diplomatic hand in Tokyo to check the handling of the situation by Maj. Gen. Kenji Dohara, commander of the Japanese army on the continent.

In well-informed quarters it was said that the British had assured the Chinese they had no desire to interfere with normal, pacific Japanese economic penetration of the territory involved.

Tokyo Feels Issue Dangerous

(Copyright, 1936, Associated Press)

TOKYO, Nov. 21.—Japanese political experts close to the government asserted today that the north China situation has developed into an explosive issue within the Tokyo government.

2 RELIEF MEETINGS SCHEDULED TONIGHT

to cut off relief to Ohio Dec. 1, Joseph Garber, Hopkins' aid at federal relief headquarters here, said that insofar as the federal program is concerned it will end on schedule.

"We plan to carry out Mr. Hopkins' instructions fully," Garber said. "Mr. Hopkins told me no Washington several days ago that under no circumstances would any extension of funds be granted."

These developments dampened somewhat rising spirits among relief clients prompted by President Roosevelt's promise yesterday to continue federal relief when necessary to prevent starvation.

Relief agencies from political subdivisions will carry a plea for state aid in shouldering the relief burden to the Ohio senate tax commission.

THEY'LL SEE COWS.
PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Nov. 21.—The interstate dairy council, which says 142,000 Philadelphia children have never seen a cow, is taking steps to show them some. The council will sponsor erection of a barn at the city zoo and ask dairymen to send cows for exhibition purposes.

SELASSIE RETURNS FROM FRONT TOUR

Two Fascist Planes Fly Over Same Area Immediately After His Survey.

By The Associated Press
Emperor Haile Selassie was back in Addis Ababa today, having completed an aerial tour of the southern war front shortly before two Fascist airplanes flew over the section he had surveyed.

The Ethiopian government announced the Italian machine gunners passed over Harar and Dire Dawa, in eastern Ethiopia, just after the Emperor started back for the capital, which he left only yesterday. The communiqué said the Italian planes dropped no bombs, indicating they were "pursuing the Ethiopian plane" or reconnoitering.

New peace moves were under way at Paris, where Maurice Peterson, head of the Ethiopian department of the British foreign office, was to resume informal discussions with French experts.

Italian authorities said they were watching the negotiations, which had been suspended since Oct. 29, to ascertain whether a basis for discussion, acceptable to Italy, would result.

Informal parties said, however, Italy would push forward in her efforts to secure and retain a large area of Ethiopia defying the attempts of the League of Nations to stop the war.

In quarters near French Premier Laval it was stated the likelihood of an "honorable" solution appeared less precarious, but Italy's desire for territorial gain and the league's stand were admitted to offer serious difficulties.

Anti-British feeling was again manifest in Egypt, as students and other groups compelled some shops to close as a demonstration against Great Britain. Police battled with the demonstrators, who broke many shop windows.

Egypt's collaboration in sanctions against Italy, opposition to British influence and disapproval of the policies of Premier Tewfik Nasim Pasha have been responsible for the prolonged disorders.

MONEY EARMARKED FOR DOLE ALL GONE

cities have put their hands to this ploy and that it is never again going to be taken away.

ITALIAN SOLDIERS GO BACK TO FIELDS

By The Associated Press

Star Jealousy Seen Cause of Movie Divorces

By The Associated Press
HOLLYWOOD, Calif., Nov. 21.—Happiness in marriage is a forbidden paradise to the movie stars—unless mated to a "super-man or woman," a noted psychologist asserted today.

"Jealousy closes the door," said Dr. Boris Markov of the University of Southern California. "Unhappiness in their personal lives is the price many of them pay for stardom."

A close friend of many picture people and teacher of many children of players and executives, he declined to discuss personalities.

"The exceptions," he said, "are those in which a star's mate falls in love, and stays in love, with the real person, not with the illusion the star spends 24 hours a day maintaining."

"It takes a super-man or woman to do this. And when he or she falls, the first reaction is deep, bitter jealousy of the star."

"A movie star's wife may not fear any one woman, but unless her love is deep and true, she will resent the man-adornment directed toward him."

"Knowing the real man—the nervous, fearful, worried, capricious human—she will have difficulty in understanding the tremendous waves of interest and vicarious love he enjoys."

"Eventually, the day must come when she sees him surrounded by many women, younger, prettier, more clever than she. Doubt enters, then jealousy; then the collapse of the marriage."

"The same is true, in more vivid colors, he said, when the wife is the star and her husband just her husband."

Gobbler's Respite from Ax Is Cut Short by Firemen

A Marion turkey today faces the annual mass murder of gobblers for Thanksgiving dinner tables in spite of a short respite gained Tuesday when he escaped from his captor, only to be rescued by members of West Side fire company.

The gobbler, which was being fattened up for the coming holiday by Mrs. Carle Haas of 456 West Center street, escaped from his shed that is his temporary home and took refuge on the top of the building that houses the Ruxy theater and other West Center street business places.

Mrs. Haas, violating her Thanksgiving table barren of turkey, appealed to Fire Chief T. J. McFarland. The chief responded by ordering West Side engines to the escape scene. Three firemen, using ladders and a fire escape at the rear of the building, clambered over the roof and captured the gobbler, returning it to the grateful Mrs. Haas.

"Maybe Mrs. Haas'll save us a drumstick," the captain in charge of the firemen said.

Forest Gridded At O.S.U. Rates Place in Spotlight

James N. Karcher Picked by Coach Schmidt for Place on All Big Ten Eleven.

James N. Karcher, of Forest, Marion county, one of the mainstays of the Ohio State university's football team who this season is playing his last year of college football, is receiving praise from various quarters, news dispatches report.

Coach Francis Schmidt of Ohio State named Karcher in his first team of the Big Ten conference team, placing him for the position of center on the mythical lineup.

Karcher not only has done a superb job in his guard position with the Bucks but also has given his team valuable punting service.

Karcher truly came into his own in the Illinois game last week, right in the evening of his college career. It was the first time he has ever carried the full punting burden and, despite a wet, slippery ball, he came through with colors flying high.

Plays Steady Game

Jim played a steady, consistent game at guard against the Illinois. Karcher sparkles at "meeting" plays straight at him and he possesses the speed to catch runners in the open.

Jim is studying veterinary medicine at Ohio State. He will end his collegiate football history with the Michigan game Saturday but he still has one more year of studies.

He was one of the original members of the Ohio State Tower club, with quarters in the southwest tower of the Ohio stadium. The organization's membership is now 180, all students with outstanding scholastic records.

Karcher was a fullback on the Ohio State freshman team and when he was a sophomore was on

SUCIDAL FINANCING OF SPORTS PLAYED

Football Institute Blames Small Schools and Colleges for Numerous Deaths.

By The Associated Press
PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 21.—The American Football Institute has laid much of the responsibility for the death and injury on the gridiron to "practically suicidal" financing of sports by some high schools and small colleges.

The institute, headed by John D. Gross, said in a report yesterday that "false and dangerous economy" practiced by school authorities is a major factor in the football casualty toll every year.

The report of a national survey by the institute also said a high school representation on national rules committees in all sports is necessary if schoolboy competition is to be controlled properly and if accident hazards are to be reduced.

It urged school authorities to select coaches carefully, insist on the use of proper protective equipment, demand that coaches train players in "sound fundamental principles," and establish safety clinics.

A rumor current in local athletic circles a month or so back was that Forest residents were preparing petitions to send to Columbus newspapers and news services demanding to learn why Karcher, as an Ohio State star, was being overlooked by the press.

The petitions, if they were being circulated, have never arrived. Karcher, incidentally, did not know about them and was surprised to learn that such a story made the rounds hereabouts.

Karcher resides in Forest, with Dr. J. F. Holtzmueller, his ace booster. Jim's mother is a nurse in Upper Sandusky. His father died about 11 years ago. He has one brother, 12 years old, who hopes to follow in his brother's footsteps as a student and athlete at Ohio State.

TRAPPED
MR. RALPH WM. DETHLE

"It is an awful feeling to be going around with your head aching, spots dancing before your eyes and every time you stoop over to feel like everything is spinning around and something all turn black before your eyes. Nothing equals Vendol for clearing out the liver and overcoming constipation. It is made from roots and herbs that have a quick and pleasant action on these vital organs.

All good druggists sell Vendol, so do not let any person confuse you by offering a substitute with a name that sounds like Vendol. You can always get the genuine from Henny & Cooper, also W. N. Sams Pharmacy.

FAT GIRLS GET THE GO-BY-SLIM GIRLS WIN MEN

Let Fat Be Your Worst Enemy. There's a reason why so many people are getting fat and often times it is in the blood. The reason, doctors say, is often because the blood in your body goes through this gland sixteen times every day. If it doesn't have nature to "burn up" excess food and fatty tissue in much the same way as a good "drain" acts in a furnace. Blood physically combat this condition by feeding the gland the substance called "Mendol" and millions of pounds of excess fat has been wiped out this way.

Mendol's "Fountain" Tablets are based on the same scientific method used by doctors. So why not lose fat the easy way—without starvation diets or back-breaking bending and rolling exercises? Start the Mendol treatment today that millions have used successfully to get rid of excess fat. The formula is in every box so you know just what you are taking. Don't wait—get Mendol today from drugists.

REFORMATORY "DEAL" DENIED

Mrs. Mittendorf Says She'll Resist All Ouster Attempts by Columbus Leaders.

By The Associated Press
MARIETTA, O., Nov. 21.—Mrs. Louise Mittendorf, veteran superintendent of the Ohio reformatory for women, asserted today she would resist any attempt to oust her.

The gray-haired first and only superintendent of the institution housing 300 women denied reports she had made a "deal" with Gov. Davey to resign.

"What reason would I have for resigning?" she asked, in an interview.

"I've done nothing that they should want me to resign. I would demand an explanation of the situation."

Minimizes Rumors
"Of course, I've received reports that I made a deal with the governor. I've heard who wants the job. But these were just rumors. There's been nothing official."

Persons close to Gov. Davey have indicated that announcement of Mrs. Mittendorf's resignation awaited only the selection of a successor.

Mrs. Mittendorf said the only quarrel she had with the administration was with George Williams, former food inspector for state welfare department institutions. Williams was dismissed.

"Williams was sore because he couldn't find anything wrong up here," Mrs. Mittendorf said. "If I'd known that he would act like he did, I would have fixed things so he could have found something wrong."

Williams reported "deplorable conditions" existed at the institution, established in 1916.

Points to Overcrowding
"There's overcrowding conditions and we need badly a psychopathic ward and other isolation wards," said the superintendent, who was Montgomery county's first woman probation officer.

"One of our most vital necessities is a school. An eighth grade education is an average for our girls. Some cannot read and many write badly. But we haven't got the money to have these things."

Reviewing her record and reiterating she could see no reason why she should resign, Mrs. Mittendorf said:

"Since we started out in the institution with 30 girls, we have never experienced a riot. I do not say we have not been near one at times, but such things can usually be forestalled and steps are taken to prevent them. Of course, we have had a few escapees."

Wants Psychopathic Ward
"If we had a psychopathic ward, our troubles would be lessened. Then the incorrigible girls they send us from the girls' industrial school at Delaware for discipline make our problem harder. They are the most difficult to handle."

Mrs. Mittendorf said there never has been an investigation made of the institution.

"She was disappointed by the late Gov. Frank Willis as superintendent and her husband, Louis, was named superintendent of buildings."

Toured on Cycle
DALLAS, Tex.—Pratt Kinard of Denton is back in school after a tour of Mexico by bicycle. He is a junior at North Texas State Teachers college.

KENTON COUNCIL ACTS TO BUY WATER PIPES

Also Expresses Satisfaction Over Refusal of Gas Firm's Rate Appeal.

Special to The Star

KENTON, Nov. 21.—During its second November session, city council expressed satisfaction with decision of the public utilities commission in denying application of the West Ohio Gas Co. for a rehearing of the Kenton and Lima gas rate cases, and passed legislation authorizing purchase of water mains, sewer pipe and other material for repair and extension of waterworks and sewerage facilities. The material is necessary for successful completion of WPA projects now underway.

Although word was received here that the West Ohio Gas Co. planned an immediate appeal to the Ohio supreme court for a rehearing of the utility commission's last decision, local officials were confident that an early settlement of the seven-year controversy would be reached and that the $16,000 refund ordered to Kenton consumers would be made shortly after first of the year.

The public utilities commission order establishing a five-cent penalty instead of the 10-cent one that is being collected for failure to pay bills promptly also will be cited in the gas company's plea for a rehearing in the supreme court.
